

Jake showed a high level of interest and curiosity while researching fun facts about bees. Using the laptop increased his engagement, and he remained focused throughout the lesson. Jake demonstrated enthusiasm for learning by asking thoughtful questions and seeking to deepen his understanding of the topic. Although the activity was completed independently, he felt motivated to share the information he had researched with his classmates. His curiosity and eagerness to explore facts in more detail highlighted his enjoyment of inquiry-based learning.